POLES COMPLETE THE PROCESS OF BOTTLING UP SOVIET ARMIES

Last Gateway of Escape Closed

Prisoners and Material Surrendered in Vast Quantities.

Soviet Forces Menacing Lemberg Announced in Retreat

Thirty-five Thousand Prisoners And Hundreds of Cannon Taken.

(By Associated Press)

Warsaw, Poland, August 23. — The process of bottling up the Russian soviet forces on the northern front between Prussia and the Vistula river has been completed, according to an official statement issued just before last midnight.

The Poles have closed the gateway of escape, taking prisoners and materials in such quantities it is impossible to count them. One Polish infantry division alone took five thousand prisoners and sixteen guns.

The Polish forces have been regrouped into two armies for pursuit of the Russians—the northern army, under General Haller, and the central army, under President Pilsudski.

The latter's turning movement continues under the best conditions. The Poles have counted more than 35,000 prisoners and 200 cannon.

The soviet forces which have been menacing Lemberg from the east and south have commenced to retreat under pressure, due to the continued Polish advance along the entire central and northern front. Twenty-two cannon were taken during the advance on the central front under the personal command of President Pilsudski.

Governor Cox was here to attend to personal affairs and to rest prior to his next speaking trip, which will carry him to the farthest point yet of his campaign.

The Republican campaign fund and the league of nations are scheduled to feature the Governor's immediate addresses.

Although withholding comment for the time being on the denial of Senator Harding of the fifteen million dollar fund charge, Governor Cox has given assurances of producing proof.

BIG SHOWS HAVE LARGE ATTENDANCE

Only Large Circus Showing in City Since The War Welcomed by Thousands.

Two Performances and Street Parade Watched by Audiences Which Fill Tent.

Hagenbeck and Wallace's Great Circus came into town Sunday morning from Ironton twenty-eight cars strong just after sun up and many a little boy and girl who started to Sunday School failed to get there because of the activities that centered around the unloading process on the Toledo Division tracks at South Fayette street. It was the first time since the war that one of the "greatest on earth" kind of circuses had visited this city and it was welcomed by hundreds who watched the show unload. Within an hour after the cars had been placed by the switch engine a steady stream of wagons drawn by from four to eight teams started for the old fair grounds and before noon the "big top" had been raised.

The first out fit to be put into shape at the show grounds was the cook tent and one of the sites was the head chef preparing five hundred pounds of chicken for the Sunday dinner. Breakfast consisted of about the same amount of steak.

Following the parade Monday morning at ten o'clock which required an hour to pass a given point the caravan wended its way back to the show grounds where the first performance was given at two-thirty.

The doors open at seven o'clock Monday evening for the evening performance.

In the parade Monday morning was the great Hagenbeck & Wallace menagerie which included all the animals that are ever seen in the zoo. Wild animals, however, were not the whole parade. There were the horses, the famous Hagenbeck & Wallace aggregation, every one in fine shape and a perfect specimen of horseflesh.

The first performance was given at two-thirty and the doors were thrown open for the second performance at seven o'clock Monday evening. The afternoon show filled the tent and it was expected the evening entertainment would bring out a capacity audience.

The circus was scheduled to leave this city about midnight for Piqua.

FRANK JAMES IS CALLED BY DEATH

Mr. Frank James, retired farmer and highly respected resident of this city passed quietly away Monday morning at 12:15 at his home on East Paint street, in his sixtieth year.

For the past year Mr. James had been almost a constant sufferer from neuritis and had found all medical skill and treatment at well known Sanatoriums alike unavailing to stay the disease.

He was an exceedingly popular man with a host of friends and his death is learned with great regret and much sympathy for the widow and only son, Robert, who have given to him the most devoted care through his long illness. Two brothers, George James, of Indianapolis, Ind., and Charles, of Elyria, O., and two sisters, Miss Eva James, of Greenfield, and Mrs. Mollie Dunlap of Hastings, Neb.

Mr. James was the grandson of Washington Mains, one of the big land owners and capitalists of the early days in the Greenfield neighborhood. For the last twenty-five years he has made his home in Fayette County and has taken an active interest in whatever was for the county's promotive welfare. His wife is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Mace.

Mr. James was a member of the First Presbyterian Church of this city, but had no lodge affiliations. His foremost interest always centered in his home in which funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock.

Burial will be made in the Washington Cemetery.

COUNCIL HOLDS SPECIAL MEET

Rate Ordinances Placed Upon Second Reading and Adjournment Taken

At a brief session of the city council held Saturday evening the rate ordinances lowering the gas rates and raising the electric light rates were placed up their second reading and arrangements made for another session of council Monday evening at five o'clock to place the ordinances on their final reading. All members were present.

Action for the second reading was started by Brownell who moved that the gas rate ordinance be placed on its second reading. Rowe and Reichert voted no and the other councilmen yes.

The electric rate ordinance was brought up in a similar manner and Bloomer, Reichert and Rowe voted no. Brownell, Himmler, Coffman and Kingsbury voting yes.

Rowe made inquiry as to how long a councilman must be notified prior to a meeting in order that the meeting be legal. He was informed by Attorney Reid that twelve hours was the smallest length of time.

No attempt was made to suspend the rules and ask for a third reading of the ordinances.

The Hand of The People

In his last published article, appearing in the current issue of The Saturday Evening Post, Baron Rosen, at present one of the high class Russians living in exile in the United States, directs attention to one of the main causes of the world war and how, during the last forty-eight hours preceding the outbreak of the war, the fate of the world depended on two human beings—"two frail reeds, one of them painted to look like iron, the other pathetically frank in his frailty—whom an unkind fate had placed in positions which neither of them was capable of measuring."

In that manner the forceful and skilled diplomat describes the Kaiser and the Czar, the two human beings who, had they been courageous men, understanding the consequences, could have averted the greatest tragedy of all ages.

Of course while the formal bringing about or averting the world war did rest with these two human figureheads of government, in reality, as Baron Rosen points out, the real fountainhead of the stream of war was to be found in the jealousies and rivalries of statesmen—the real strength of the government.

Conditions which brought about the war were not, he points out, the "effect of an irresistible pressure of natural laws, but had been deliberately created by human agencies."

The ability of those same human agencies to correct the evil is made plain, but having played in secrecy the nefarious game of la haute politique of which the stakes were the lives and fortunes of millions upon millions of their fellow beings, they lacked the courage to correct the crisis when it came or to check, during the years preceding, a tendency which they could not help knowing would lead to war.

The real statesmen went along obliviously, intent on selfish interests to the brink of the precipice and even then, in their blind jealousies, refused to turn back.

The real warning note is the disposition of political leaders to play politics for their own gain regardless of the risk they incur for the millions who trust them and the lack of moral courage in public servants.

It's the selfish scramble for power and position, the unmindfulness of the rights of the many, the inability or unwillingness of the leaders to break party lines that leads to tragedy, whether of war or business.

If the leaders refuse to obey the promptings of the higher purposes then, in free America, the people can save themselves from the consequences of statesmen's folly, themselves checking the dangerous currents by independent voting.

That's the big supreme right and privilege we have over autocratic governments.

The hand of the American people can always point the way if it remains free from political fetters.

A Bad Job

The work of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad in replacing its street crossings in this city is meeting with almost universal condemnation of citizens.

The work has been so poorly done, it is so clearly only a makeshift to quiet the indignant demands of a long insulted public that it is amazing the city authorities would allow the railroad company to "get away with" so flagrant an insult to the people of the city and county. The crossings, as "repaired" are but very little better than they were before and while some little betterment has been made it has been done in such a shoddy, cheap way that within a few weeks conditions will have reverted to as bad or a worse condition than we have endured for years.

In allowing the work to be done as it was the city authorities have, by their silence, given an approval of it which will place the railroad company and not the citizens in the place of vantage to secure a permanent improvement in keeping with the needs and the rights of travelers over the streets.

The city has, and has had, full authority to compel the B. & O. to construct better crossings—real crossings like the Pennsylvania company has put in—and why they allow the B. & O. to escape so plain a duty is difficult to understand.

POETRY FOR TODAY

THE PASSING OF THE HORSE

When the tractors stalled in the heaping drifts
An chugged till thier breath was gone,
We called them then to the task again,
That we might carry on.
We called to the faithful willing teams,
Close link with our human lives,
To lend once more to the need of war—
To free the 'seventy-fives.

Into the thick of the driving storm
They plunged and tugged their way—
Was it delight in their last brave fight,
At dusk of a passing day?
I felt the thrill of the heaving life
Bearing me through the snow,
Then passed in fight before my sight,
Steeds of the long ago.

I saw them hitched to the Pharaoh's car
When the pyramids were new—
When the Romans raced and Caesar graced
The chariot they drew.
And down through all the countless years
From the early dawn till now,
They have borne the warrior in the charge,
They have drawn the toiler's plow.

And who was he, the first to shoe,
In some dim age long past,
When the craft was new? We know not who
But shall we be the last?
Because engines came, shall our horse-love wane,
Shall the clean-shod workers go?
For a mass of steel can we ever feel
As we do for the friends we know.

REPUBLICAN DRIVE TO CAPTURE SENATE SEATS UNDER WAY

Candidates To Be Nominated
This Week in Utah and Idaho

Smoot May Meet Defeat—
League to be Big Issue In Borah's State.

BY MARK SULLIVAN
(Copyright 1920)

Washington, August 23.—The Republicans are this week in the midst of making those senatorial nominations which, according to their plans, if they are successful, are to increase the Republican preponderance in the senate from the present majority of two to a majority of eight or ten.

One of the seats which the Republicans hope to win away from the Democrats is that of John F. Nugent. In Idaho both parties will hold their state conventions tomorrow. The Democrats will undoubtedly renominate Nugent, and the Republican convention will select from some five or six candidates that one who they think would be most likely to make a successful fight against Nugent in November.

Whoever the Republicans nominate, the opposition to Nugent is apparently to be based chiefly on the League of Nations. Reports from Idaho say that Senator Borah, in the role of Republican leader of the State, has already been diligently organizing the state and making speeches on this issue. Borah is by far the ablest and best equipped of the league opponents in the whole country, and Washington has little doubt of his being able to dominate his State on this issue.

Moyle May Oppose Smoot

Even aside from this issue Nugent and the Democrats would have a difficult time in Idaho this fall. Nugent won his seat six years ago by less than 1000 votes. On that occasion he had the aid of the Non-Partisan League. This time the Non-Partisan League will have a candidate of its own.

Another senatorial seat, decidedly one of the most important in the whole body, will be determined, so far as the two candidates are concerned, this week. On Thursday the Republicans of Utah meet to nominate a successor to Senator Smoot. They will unquestionably name Smoot himself. On the following Monday the Democrats of Utah meet to name their candidate to run against Smoot. Here in Washington it is commonly assumed that the Democratic nomination will go to James H. Moyle, who is at present in Washington as an Assistant Secretary of the Treasury. The contest between these two will be one of the most important in the country.

Smoot is without question one of the two or three leading Republicans in the Senate. His long service of eighteen years, coupled with the fact that he is an extraordinarily hard worker, has given him such a command of the senate business that the Republicans would feel his loss as a calamity at a time when they are hoping to take over the work of reorganizing the government.

Made Clean Sweep

The Democrats base their hope on the claim that within the last four or six years Utah has become a Democratic state. Senator Smoot is almost the only Republican office holder in the state. The Democrats have the other senator and both the congressmen. They also have nearly every state and county official.

The overturn of Utah in favor of Wilson in 1916 was a landslide almost never paralleled in any state. In 1912 Utah was one of the only two states the Republicans carried, the other being Vermont. Taft got about 42,000 votes; Roosevelt, on the Progressive ticket, 24,000, and Wilson, 39,000. But in 1916, Wilson got over 84,000 votes to Hughes' 54,000.

It is the momentum of this extraordinary landslide that the Democrats are counting on this year. This Utah Senatorial election will be watched by the country with extreme interest.

BANK CLERK SAYS DRECO PROVES A GOOD INVESTMENT

Relieved of Stomach Disorder, Dizzy Spells, Nervousness; Gave Him a Fine Appetite, and Gained 12 Pounds by Taking Dreco.

Hardly a day passes but what some good responsible person openly declares Dreco has given them splendid results. Professional men, farmers, machinists, bankers, railroad men, nurses all say Dreco has proven a great blessing to them by restoring their health and strength; for instance Mr. Shackelford Snodgrass, a highly thought of employee of the Central National Bank of Chillicothe, Ohio, says:

"I am glad to openly endorse Dreco for the good it did me. I have taken three bottles and gained twelve pounds. In addition to this Dreco worked my liver off, thereby overcoming dizzy spells I used to have. I sleep well and have a good appetite now, Dreco proved a good investment for me and I gladly recommend it to the public."

Any remedy that restores the natural functions of the human body is a health-making remedy. The use of Dreco, the great herbal medicine, tends to restore the appetite, to procure natural digestion which is followed by an increased circulation and nutrition of the whole body. Lean, haggard bloodless people begin to gain weight, strength and flesh at once from taking Dreco, as they themselves declare in signed statements.

All druggists now sell Dreco and it is being especially introduced in Washington C. H., by Frank Christopher, advt.

RANDOM NOTES

SOCIAL : PERSONAL MENTION : CLUBS

Miss Emma M. Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson, and Mr. Chalmers S. Kelley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kelley, both well known young people of this city, were united in marriage by Rev. William Boynton Gage, at the home of the bride's parents, Sunday afternoon at half past two o'clock.

The double ring ceremony was performed in the presence of the immediate families, including the bride's sister, Mrs. Forrest Horne, Mr. Horne and children, Eleanor and Paul, of Dayton, and Miss Helen Rhodes.

The young couple left immediately after the ceremony for a short wedding trip and upon their return will be at home to a large circle of friends, on Columbus Avenue, where they have a home newly furnished and in complete readiness for their occupancy.

The announcement of the marriage will elicit good wishes galore.

The bride, a girl of much sweetness and charm as well as exceedingly pretty, has been engaged in Craig Bros. Millinery department for the past four years and has added a large business acquaintance to her many personal friends. She has also been active in the work of the Pythian Sisters, at present holding the office of Mistress of Records and Correspondence. Her going away costume, a smart tailored suit of navy blue tricotine, with fall hat of blue breast feathers, and corsage of rose buds, was most becoming to her unusual brunette type.

Mr. Kelley is a popular young business man, proprietor of the O. K. Barber Shop located at Court and Fayette streets. He served with honor in the late war.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Kinnear entertained at dinner Saturday night Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Behling, Miss Helen Marion, Miss Hastings and Mr. Allen Behling of Columbus.

Mr. Leigh Colvin of New York, who is the nominee for vice president on the Prohibition ticket, is a brother of Mrs. John W. Townsley of the Chillicothe pike. His family, wife and daughter Virginia are now visiting at the Townsley home, while he is in California.

An excellent likeness of Mr. and Mrs. Colvin and daughter appeared on the front page of the Herald Friday evening with a short sketch of Mr. Colvin's record as a Prohibition lecturer.

The third annual reunion and picnic dinner of the Cherry and Brown families held Wednesday, August 18, was crowned with the same complete success that attended each successive affair and even rivaled those of the past in its many delightful features.

The reunion was held at the beautiful country home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sheridan and family near Staunton. The ideal surroundings and perfect day contributed a large share to the pleasure and Mr. and Mrs. Sheridan extended the hospitality of their home in every possible way.

Seventy members of the Cherry and Brown clan were in attendance, and the ties which bind the different families were drawn even more closely together at the end of the happy day.

It was a delicious and sumptuous dinner that was spread on long tables, which could have had no more appreciated decoration than the tempting eatables, garnished with fresh relishes. The feast included every thing to be thought of and to the delight of the children there was plenty of ice cream, which was a treat from Mr. and Mrs. Sheridan.

After dinner there was enjoyable afternoon of exciting games of horse shoe and baseball, and Kodak pictures were taken. Piano numbers were beautifully rendered by the daughter, Mrs. David Binegar, Mrs. Rose and others, and there was also Victrola music, and old fashioned songs and popular airs sung by Mrs. Binegar and Mrs. Rose.

The following relatives and friends were present: Mr. and Mrs. Otis Brown, daughter Virginia, son Francis, Mrs. Arnold Binkley and son, McArthur, of Dayton; Mr. and Mrs. Elijah Brown, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Brown and son Harold, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Batson and son, Joseph, and Miss Mary Fairley, of Midland City; Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Silas Hart and children, Bessie Mabel and son Dennis, Mr. and Mrs. Hays Watson and sons Kenneth and Earnest, of Blanchester; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Brown and daughters, Clara, Helen and Margaret, of Martinsville; Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Ladd, of New Lexington; Mr. and Mrs. Austin Haines, daughter, Adeline, and son Francis, and Mr. A. L. Cherry of Greenfield; Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Kneedler, sons Fred, Robert, Marion and Earl, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ladd and mother, and Earl Anderson, of East Monroe; Mr. and Mrs. Estie Binegar and sons, Marion, Elbert, and daughter, Irena, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Garber and son Donald, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Russell, of Sabina; Rev. and Mrs. Rose and son Paul, and Mr. and Mrs. David Binegar.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman McCune, of New Holland, was the scene of a very enjoyable surprise Sunday, August 22, when twenty-five relatives and friends gathered to remind Mr. McCune of his birthday. The affair had been so completely planned by Mrs. McCune that it was a complete surprise.

The guests included: Mr. J. J. Parker, Mrs. A. L. Bobbitt and granddaughter, Margaret Roseboom, Miss Fronia Chaney, of Lynchburg; Mr. and Mrs. James Creed, of Hillsboro; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McCune and children, of Clarksburg; Mr. and Mrs. D. C. McCune, Mr. and Mrs. George Hooks, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer McCune and little daughter, Norma, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hushison, Warren Mercer.

BODY IN THICKET IS REMAINS OF WASHINGTON MAN

Badly Decomposed Body
Found Near Xenia Friday
Is Identified as Remains
Of James Allen.

Identity Is Made Through
Agency of Man by Whom
Allen Was Employed Until June 1st.

The coroner of Greene county concluded, unofficially, Saturday evening, that the horribly decomposed body found in a blackberry patch near Xenia, Friday, was the remains of James Allen, aged about 60 years, farm laborer and carpenter of Fayette county for many years.

Two sisters, Mrs. James Buson, and Mrs. Susan Stoddard, reside on East Paint street.

The fact that a spectacle case found on the body bore the name of A. Clark Gossard, optometrist, of this city, and that he wore a suit of clothes bearing the brand name

TEACHERS' EXAMINATION

The second regular examination for teachers of the City Schools of Washington C. H., Ohio, will be held at the High School building, Saturday August 28, 1920. Examination will begin promptly at 8 o'clock.

AMY V. CONN, Clerk.

of a local clothing dealer, led to the belief that he was a Washington man. Charles Cooke, a farmer living near Sedalia, read an account of the finding of the body in the thicket in Friday evening's issue of The Herald and was impressed with the fact that the description of the man found tallied with the description of a man by the name of "Jim" Allen who had worked for him until about the first of June.

Mr. Cooke immediately notified The Herald and the office was soon in touch with the Greene county coroner, Dr. I. L. Haines, of Port William.

Body Is Identified.

Coroner Haines was of the opinion when notified that the body was that of a Charles Foster, who had entered the Greene County Infirmary but who had been released five weeks ago.

It was reliably established through a comparison of notes that Allen had entered the infirmary under the name of Charles Foster and that the man whose body was now unrecognizable was in reality James Allen of Washington Court House.

Nothing remained but the tattered suit of clothes and the skeleton.

When informed of the finding of what was supposed the body of their brother near Xenia the sisters in this city said that there was one way to positively identify it. They said that only recently he had had every tooth extracted and another examination by the coroner made the identity definite.

Sisters Tell Story

Mrs. Buson and Mrs. Stoddard say they last saw their brother about the first of June when he left a sick bed and said he was going to work for a man the other side of Xenia. He had, at times when work was slack here, been employed by a man by the name of Brickel near Port William, and they supposed that was where he had gone. He had been sick several days, sat up in bed one day, and under their protest left the house the day following.

The sisters also say that his health had been very bad for some time and that he was subject to spells with his heart.

Allen was last seen by a man who lives near where the body was found and it is supposed that he was struck with failure of the heart while passing through the thicket or became ill in the woods and crawled there, dying because of neglect.

To Hold Inquest.

Tuesday morning at nine o'clock an inquest will be held in Xenia. The spectacle case found on Allen will be forwarded to Mr. Gossard for identification.

Besides the spectacle case the other articles in Allen's pockets were a razor, a drinking cup, and an empty pocketbook.

The body was buried in the Xenia cemetery, Saturday afternoon. It will probably be disinterred and brought to this city for burial in the Washington cemetery.

"HETTY" SELLS IT FOR LESS.

Has the Small Car Owner A Right to Good Tires

THIS much is certain—that the small car owners of this country have as high quality standards as any other class of motorists. Whenever you want to see this proven out, you have only to watch how they come to good tires, when they are given an opportunity to get at them.

What some dealers seem to overlook are the reasons which have led most of the small car owners to buy their cars.

In building tires for the small car, the United States Rubber Company exercises as much care, as much thought, as much supervision, as if they were intended to go on the most expensive cars in the country.

Devoting an entire factory to their manufacture. Putting the whole weight of its varied experience behind them.

Never cheapening their quality on the mistaken theory that a man's intelligence can be judged by the length of his car's wheel base.

Good dealers will tell you that they can never get enough U. S. 30x3 1/2-inch Tires.

A hint which the small car owner who is bent on quality will always heed in time.

SHE FEELS LIKE DIFFERENT WOMAN

Hardly Able to Dress Herself Before Taking Tanlac—Now Well and Strong.

Still another highly esteemed Cincinnati woman comes forward and adds her voice to the thousands who have already endorsed the wonderful medicine Tanlac. This time it is Mrs. Dora Fulton, residing at 2787 West 6th street, Cincinnati, Ohio, who when speaking of the great benefit she had derived from the medicine said:

"For six months before I started taking Tanlac I was in such a general run down condition that I just felt tired and good-for-nothing all the time. I had no appetite to speak of, and the little I did eat would upset me so that I was in perfect misery for hours afterwards. My food seemed to lie in my stomach like a lump of lead, then sour and form gas that bloated me up until I could hardly breathe and give me severe pain. I was very constipated and had dull mean headaches in the morning. My nerves were in such a wretched state that I couldn't sleep at night but woke up every few minutes with a jump. Next morning I felt as though I had been up all night, and would be so weak that I could hardly dress myself, much less do the housework."

"I never was one for trying a lot of medicines, but I heard of so many folks being helped by Tanlac that I thought I would give it a trial. Before I had finished half a bottle I noticed I was getting stronger, and by the time I was through with the third bottle I felt like a different woman. I now have such an appetite that I want to eat all the time. My food never upsets me and I'm not bothered with gas or indigestion any more. I sleep like a child at night and get up in the morning so fresh and strong that I can do all my housework without any trouble. I never have these awful headaches like I used to, but feel fine all the time. Just think Tanlac is the best medicine in the world and take great pleasure in recommending it."

Tanlac is sold in Washington by C. S. Haver, in Lowell by Mason's Drug Store, in Jeffersonville by J. H. Davis, in Octa by I. W. Murphy and in Milledgeville, E. L. Ford Sons, Lee Ortmann, Selden. — Advt.

MIXED BALL CLUB DEFEATS TIGERS

Jeffersonville Faces Mixture of Wilmington and Washington Clubs And is Humbled in Fast Game.

With but two regular Sabina players, Turner and Newland, in the lineup the Sabina baseball club was able to defeat the Jeffersonville Tigers on the Jeffersonville diamond in nine innings of great playing by the score of 5 to 4 Sunday afternoon.

Sabina was strengthened by the addition of some of the Washington players who were not engaged because of wet grounds in this city, and Loyd Morris was on the mound for Sabina with Manager Suttles of the Athletics on third base, and Carl Noon in the right garden. The remainder of the lineup were Wilmington men.

On the plateau for the Tigers Hieronimus furnished worthy opposition to the visitors and allowed but five hits but which soon totaled into runs when mixed up with a few errors. Morris granted twice the number of safeties but he kept them scattered and breezed along in just enough style to win.

Jeffersonville started the scoring in the first inning when they scored two runs. The runs were made directly responsible to Lynn Mathews who ran wild on the bases and kept things moving until his team mates switched in a couple of bingles.

Sabina did not open until the fourth frame when the score was tied up with two runs. Scores again came across for both teams in the fifth and sixth sessions and all was blank from then on to the ninth.

The game was played before one of the largest crowds of the season at Jeffersonville and many fans went up for the game from this city.

NO GAME SIGN IS AGAIN USED

But the Muldoon Club Failed to Receive Notice.

It sometime happens that visiting club fails to show up, but this time, it was the local club which failed to appear at the park at game time. The Muldoon team went to Sunnyside Park and practised an hour before a handful of fans who had expected a game and then caught the afternoon train back to Cincinnati.

It all happened, because the Muldoon management failed to receive a telegram, which had been sent by Frank Reichert, of the Washington Athletics. Not knowing that the game had been canceled the Muldoon men climbed the rattle and were in the city by noon. By that time every Athletic had been notified of "no game" and when the management decided to round them up for the contest hardly half of the players could be located.

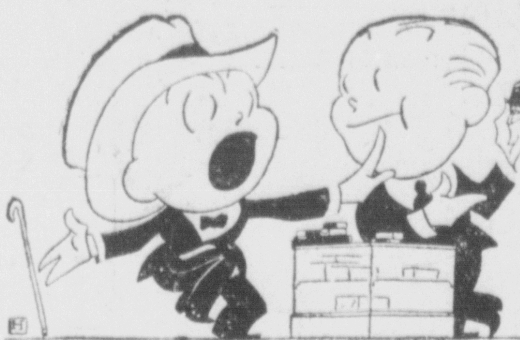

Fans can look forward to next week with the hope of seeing a real game for the Wilmington Clintons are due to clash with the Athletics at Sunnyside Park.
